Assignments

Teachers can quickly create assignments on the go using the app. Students can then complete quizzes and activities assigned to them on the move.

Announcements

Now you can prepare and send formal messages to one or more people (parents of a class or the whole school, for example) - you can even send and receive private replies!
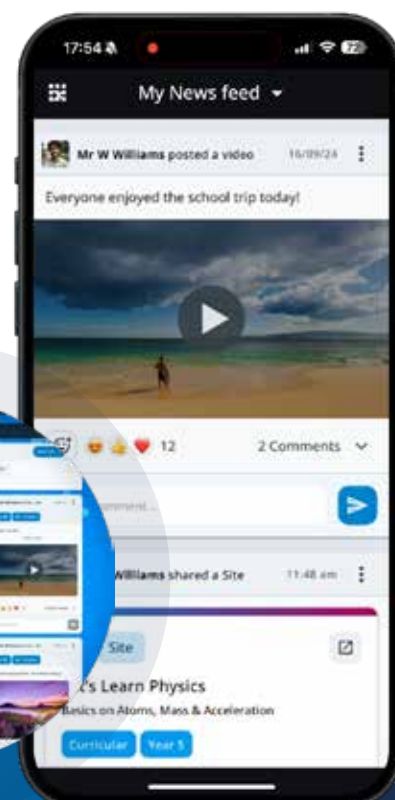

Chat

Very soon users will be able to organise and review their announcements, private conversations and group chats. Similar to WhatsApp, but all data controlled by the school only, with servers in Australia.

Journals Expected Term 2, 2025

Journals provide children and their families with photographs and videos of themselves and their work - creating a Record of Achievement for all learners. Parents and teachers can also "like" and comment on posts.

Teachers can view the feeds of the whole school, classes, individual children, just children with disabilities, all year 7 science, or any other grouping that would be useful.

Journals will provide your parents with valuable insights into their children's lives, and teacher activity as well as provide teachers and staff with a visual heartbeat of school life in general.
